

WE NOMINATE

Mabel Earle Rightmire, a lifelong resident of New Jersey and a pioneer in the area of educational administration, who this week concluded 33 years of distinguished and devoted service in Princeton University's Department of Grounds and Buildings. Called to Stanhope Hall in February, 1926, as a "one-month substitute," Mrs. Rightmire—much like "The Man Who Came to Dinner"—stayed on, served under three departmental superintendents, helped second-guess three University Presidents and played a major role in the development of the University over the past three decades.

Indicative of the scope of her contributions to the forward movement of Princeton Gown (and Princeton Town) are the statistics bracketing her years of service. The University's annual expenditures in the community have increased more than tenfold since 1926; 20 major buildings—excluding the ever-expanding James Forrestal Research Center and the abuilding Moffett Biology Laboratory—have risen on the Princeton skyline; and, through it all, the Department of Grounds and Buildings, the unsung campus equivalent of the Army Service Forces, has absorbed more and more responsibilities.

Mrs. Rightmire the University's sole, full fledged personnel officer for well over ten years, who at one time was responsible for 100 administrative employees, knows as much about the "workings" of the University as an officer emeritus. As "senior secretary," she was in close touch with construction programs, was aware of what is involved in the upkeep of a $multi-million physical plant and even worried about the functioning of the University Dining Halls. Frequently, during World War II, when the University was a training-center for the Armed Forces, she shoved back her typewriter to lend a hand with the "second table-settings" for naval trainees.

A native of East Orange, N. J., and a fourth-generation New Jerseyite, Mrs. Rightmire was educated in East Orange schools, studied at New York University and completed her secretarial training in the Merchants' and Bankers' Secretarial School, Newark. Prior to her marriage in 1921 to Dr. Voorhees Alvin Rightmire, a Pennsylvania-trained dentist, she was associated with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company and N. J. Public Service. She agreed to assist a University-employed friend in 1926 and, some 13 years later, helped her initial university employer, the late and beloved George C. Wintringer, launch the Princeton Community Chest.

Mrs. Rightmire, an officer of the Princeton Soroptimists' Club and a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, is one of those persons to whom retirement will come easily. Long concerned with the well-being of the Betty Bachrach Home for Crippled Children at Longport, N. J., she chances to be an antique addict—capable of discussing, at the drop of a wick, the colonial hanging-lamps she and her husband have found for their two-century-old house in nearby Deans, where they have made their home for the past 38 years. Needlepoint, for-a-purpose travel and reading will all be part of the years ahead.

For meriting from those with whom she has been associated, the time-honored praise reserved for persons of distinction—"A job well done!"; for looking to the future with the buoyancy most attempt to reserve for the present; for truly outstanding service; she is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

PATIENCE WILL PAY OFF
Heat to End Early This Year. About the time the thermometer was topping 90 for the fifth straight day, Princeton weather expert David M. Ludlum was giving his fellow townspeople a good-sized chunk of good news. "We're getting our summer over early," he reported.

"May produced some unusually warm weather, which came considerably earlier than usual. The late June heat is completing a cycle that will last about 50 to 60 days. By mid-July (with the end of summer officially still two months away), cooler weather from Canada will be the rule rather than the exception."

That's the prognostication of the man who makes a business of charting weather trends for agriculture and industry, a hobby that developed into a full-fledged vocation after the famed "Operation Ludlum" during the war in

HE HAS NEWS FOR YOU: The worst may well be over, reports weatherman David Ludlum. (Story below.)

Italy told the U. S. Air Force exactly when bombing conditions would be right for blasting a Nazi-held city. Backing Mr. Ludlum's long-range predictions ("any estimate of the weather over a period as long as two weeks can't be sufficiently accurate to be called a 'forecast'") are the Weather Bureau's records of better than 75 years.

Over that time, summer heat in this section of the Atlantic seaboard has averaged ten days on which the temperature tops 90. Counting the three that so last spring, there have now been eight: the last five (Friday through Tuesday) achieving a respective maximum of 90, 92, 91, 98 and 97.

Fortunately for Princetonians' sanity, the humidity dropped as the temperature rose. It was no higher than 70 most of last week-end, shot up to 100 briefly early Monday but dropped back to the low 60's Monday and below 50 on Tuesday. Despite that, the relatively new "Discomfort Index" broke a record Monday when it hit 85.

It was, of course, a Bermuda high pushing overcast air in this direction from the Gulf of Mexico that created all the misery. It delayed, but could not forestall beyond Wednesday morning, a cold front that drove down from Canada and the Great Lakes to bring at least temporary relief to 1959's sizzling cycle — seven degrees hotter than anything that went into the record books a year ago.

Mr. Ludlum felt the heat this week more than most Princetonians. As recently as Saturday afternoon, he was in a six-inch snow storm, which blanketed the Colorado Mountains and closed all major highways leading west.

This area, too, had its share of wild weather, but it was all traceable to the heat. Weekend thunderstorms set a big barn afire in nearby Middleburgh, while an Allentown farmhand was killed by a lightning bolt. Several communities reported brief power failures, but one had a reason different from any of its neighbors. Two women who thought their car had been struck by lightning jumped from it while it was still moving and the car went on to ram an electric power pole.

FUND GOAL IS $10,000

May Go Even Higher. Trustees of the Princeton United Community Fund have set $10,000 as the goal for the fall campaign, which will benefit 17 agencies. Pending applications for membership may raise the total number of agencies to 20 by the start of the campaign, and the goal will be increased if this occurs, Ralph Mason, fund president, said.

The record figure, up $20,000 from last year, was adopted by the trustees at the recommendation of the Budget and ad. George J. Adriance. Mr. Adriance guided largely by the needs of member agencies, as expressed at the Budget Panel Conference in April.

The increase, Mr. Adriance told the trustees, stems from the admission of the Mercer County Association for Mental Health, which has asked for $6,000, and the newly-created Princeton Homecare Service, which needs $4,217. "This year in the notification to agencies there was an appeal to hold the line on previous years' requests," he said.

"This was generally respected. Some increases, however, were inevitable. The largest increase from a member agency was requested by the local Child Guidance Center." The center has increased its request from $6,000 to $12,235. "This increase received the hearty support of the public budget panel and was favored also by the budget committee and trustees," Mr. Adriance said.

John M. Reeder, campaign chairman, reported "excellent progress" in the enlistment of division chairmen to coordinate the activities of the more than 1,500 workers expected to participate in this year's campaign. In addition, reports were read by Walter H. Seitz, executive director, and Herbert Hober, chairman of the public relations committee. Mrs. Justus T. Vollbrecht, 38 Cleveland Lane, and Mrs. Leslie L. Vivian Jr., 52 Gulick Road, were elected to fill vacancies on the Board of Trustees.

PERSONALITIES

The Rev. Dr. John R. Hodo, 28 Livery Place, who on Sunday will complete a nine-year "tour of duty" in the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church when he delivers his final sermon at the Union service scheduled for the second and third Sundays of the month, is the late Dr. Frank S. Niles, first as interim minister, then as pastor, he will join San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo as Professor of Practical Theology. Sunday's sermon title: "Salute to the Saints."

B. E. Bergesen, Jr., 106 State Road, and Eric Jungberg, newly-elected commander of Post 76, American Legion, who on Saturday will give the Princeton area its traditional Independence Day pastime: baseball and fireworks. Firm in the belief that the nation's birthday should provide Americans with a chance to "go out to the ball park," Mr. Bergesen has arranged a doubleheader involving players in two of the leagues of which he is commissioner — see Sports in Princeton, page 18. Saturday night, the Legion-sponsored fireworks show, dating back three decades, will draw some 15,000 to Palmer Stadium. (Details on page 3.)

ROUNDUP

The date was June 28, 1905; the place, Xpianstil, Mich. The bride and groom were Miss Mildred Smith and Edwin S. Corwin, who on Sunday observed their golden anniversary at their 467 Stockton Street home . . . making note of their 59th last month (but really wedding until their 80th on June 6, 1960) are Col. and Mrs. James P. Barney, 61 Westcott Road. The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association is $25 further along toward its goal this week because St. Randolph Applegate found a $150 diamond watch on Palmer Square 35 minutes after it had been reported lost by its owner. Mrs. J. E. Turner of Highland Park made the donation in appreciation of his quick service.

Princetonians who have special parking permits will be called upon by Borough police to satisfy their continuation as they receive new license plates . . . the vision-mounted cards have been issued in the past but no complete record of the various holders has been kept . . . now, holders (who get them only for physical or occupational reasons and are permitted minor parking violations) will be asked to justify their continued use.

Borough and Township offices will be closed Friday, to atone for the fact that July 4 falls on Saturday . . . 4 p.m. municipal closing hours went into effect this Wednesday and will continue through Labor Day . . . Princeton University offices will close at 4:30 during the summer . . . all post office windows will be closed Saturday and no regular deliveries will be made.

Borough Police stopped a New York-bound bus Monday afternoon but only 10 gather in three fatherless children . . . while Pop was in the washroom in the Trenton station, the 2, 4 and 6-year olds declared their independence and boarded the outgoing bus.

Cool waters from an unexpected source greeted residents of Shady Brook (near Dodds) Monday evening during the scorching heat . . . a water main burst.

Two cars turned over in separate accidents on Township roads Monday without serious injury to the occupants . . . one was driven by Robert S. Haller, 26, 32 Witherspoon Lane and was a victim of the "S" curve on the Great Road near Tenacre . . . a wrecker and an ambulance went to the scene but proved unneeded . . . the wrecker was operated by Raymond Johnson, 30, a butler in the Bernard Peyton home on Freely Brook Road . . . the car went down an embankment near the Peyton home after Mr. Johnson swerved to avoid striking an animal in the road, and was towed away.

A Cranbury woman was killed in the driver's seat of her car last week in a severe thunderstorm over Italy . . . she was Mrs. Olive Kammerer of Plainsboro Road, mother of Mrs. Lewis H. Spence of the same address.

Two cases of polio have been reported in Mercer County this year, compared to none in 1958 . . . both are from the Trenton area, where a stepped-up program of Salk shots will offer free injections to help combat public apathy.

EXPECT 15,000 FOR SHOW

Fireworks Display Listed. More than 15,000 persons are expected to attend the July 4 fireworks display, sponsored by Post 76, American Legion, at Palmer Stadium. The fireworks will begin at 9 p.m., following an hour of entertainment by the Satolites Drum and Bugle Corps of North Trenton Post 458 and the Princeton Community Band, conducted by Bruce McKinney. Gates will open at 7.

The band's program will include selections from Frederick Lowe's "Gigi," "Le de France" and "Provence" from Darius Milhaud's "Suite Française," "The Gladiator" and "Finest of the Fat" by John Philip Sousa, Gustave Holst's "March from Suite in E Flat" and a medley of college songs and marches.

Admission is $1 per person with children under 12 admitted free when accompanied by an adult. Parking of cars will be directed by Charles W. Robinson of Post 218. In the event of rain the program will be postponed to Sunday night.

ADJUSTMENTS MADE

To University Housing Plans. Princeton University, planning the long-term construction of three junior-faculty apartment houses on the shores of Lake Carnegie, has been told by the Township Board of Adjustment that it can pro-rate building utility areas over all apartments in order to meet the floor area requirements of the zoning ordinance.

University officials hope that the first unit, an eight-story, 96-apartment building, may be ready for occupancy by September, 1960. It will be built on the northern lake shore, east of the railroad bridge. Over a period of several years, two similar units will be built next to it.

The zoning decision means that, to meet the required square footage for each apartment, University architects can add up all the square feet in laundry rooms, elevator shafts, utility rooms, etc., — the so-called "core" — and pro-rate the sum among the various apartments.

The Township zoning ordinance was not written to cover apartments and there is no limitation in the statute on the height of buildings. In addition, there is no restriction, except for the floor area requirements, on the kind of multiple housing that can be built in areas zoned for educational purposes. Gordon Griffin, Township attorney, has been asked to interpret the ordinance in the light of the University's plans.

The new apartments also raise the question of taxation. Technically, they are on tax-free land but University officials have agreed to discuss with the Town ship either a lump sum or assessment arrangement which would pay for the usual services, such as fire and police protection, schools and so on.

COMMITTEE MEETS

In special session, In a brief special session held Thursday night, Township Committee considered several items of old and new business. Four ordinances concerning curbs, sidewalks and sewers were passed on first reading:

● Curbing on the south side of Magnolia Lane and east end of Riverside Drive West, to be completed, the Committee hopes, before school opens. A public hearing on the ordinance will be held July 13 at the next regular Committee meeting. The curbs will cost $4,000.

● Sidewalks on Magnolia, Sycamore and Riverside Drive West, to cost $22,228, half of which will be borne by the Township and the school board and half by residents affected.

● A sewer on the rear line of lot on Ewing street, to cost $3100. The line will connect with homes across from the Shopping Center and be requested by residents about two years ago.

● A footpath from the south road of Rosedale Road to the temporary turn-around on Edgerstone, to cost $1000.

Letters received in reply to the Committee's resolution on Kingston Trap Rock blasting were read. Replies have been received from all legislators and commissioners to whom copies were sent, except Senator Raymond J. Sivieri, who has since been appointed to the Mercer County bench. No reply has been received from Kingston Trap Rock.

George S. Pfau, acting commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry, said in his letter that investigation will continue and that revised legislation regarding explosives has been drafted.

The White Horse Tavern, 9 Birch Avenue, was granted a renewal of its liquor license. The Tavern had been the object of complaint by neighbors some months ago and the license renewal was granted with the approval of police Chief James Campbell because no further complaints had been received.

GROUND BROKEN

For Guyot Hall Addition. Ground was broken this week on the Princeton campus for a five-story, multimillion dollar addition to Guyot Hall. A total of $1,165,000 has already been raised toward the project, which will be named the George M. Moffett Biology Laboratory. In addition, a small extension will be built to provide space for collection rooms and other facilities of the Department of Geology.

The Moffett wing will house more than 80 laboratories. The start of excavations on Monday marked the beginning of the first of several campus changes to be financed through the "$43 Million for Princeton" campaign. The Matthews Construction Co., is building the structure, which was designed by the New York architectural firm of R. B. O'Connor and W. H. Kilham Jr.

The late George M. Moffett, for whom the building will be named, was a member of Princeton's Class of 1904. He was a Princeton $300,000 to endow a professorship in biology which is now held by Dr. Arthur K. Parpart, chairman of the biology department. When he died in 1961, Mr. Moffett was chairman of the board of the Corn Products Refining Co.

The new laboratory's 45,000 square feet of floor space will represent an 80 per cent increase over the biology department's present space in Guyot Hall. In addition to several teaching laboratories, the structure will include seminar rooms, offices, four radio-isotope laboratories for the study of physiological and biochemical processes, an electron microscope lab, special greenhouse space for the study of plant growth hormones, enlarged biochemical facilities and low temperature rooms.

The one-story addition for use of the geology department will include eight laboratories and six large collection rooms, permitting remodeling of present facilities to provide more library space and a map room. Both extensions will adjoin Guyot Hall to the south. No target date for completion of construction has been set.

ELECTIONS HELD

For Legion Post. Formal installation of new officers of Princeton Post 76, American Legion, will be held this Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Post Headquarters, 15 Mercer. Eric H. Jungberg of Hamilton Township has been elected Post Commander.

Harold M. Hinkson Jr., 248 Mt. Lucas Road, in the new senior vice-commander, and Alphonse Robertello, Jr., 39 Pine, is junior vice-commander. Other officers, elected to serve until 1965, are: George Cahill, adjutant; Fredrick Klak, finance officer; Henry J. Frank, service officer; Thomas Kinnelly, sergeant-at-arms; and Walter M. Riggs, chaplain.

Seven new members have been elected to the executive committee. They are: William J. Birch, Elwood A. Blydenburg, Harold M. Hinkson, Sr., Nathaniel J. McKee, Henry A. Robertello, Robert C. Schmidt and James E. Whitlow.

Princeton Post, with a membership of 335, is entitled to send seven delegates to the state Legion convention, the county convention and the Mercer County committee. Those chosen to serve as delegates are Ernest F. Drake, Norman R. Fowler, Harold M. Hinkson, Jr., Eric H. Jungberg, Nathaniel J. McKee, Henry A. Robertello and Leonard Solomon.

Alternates are William J. Birch, William Haupt, Thomas Kinnelly, Theodore P. Maple, Thomas E. Hyslop, Alphonse Robertello, Jr. and Robert C. Schmidt. Mr. Drake is County Finance Officer and Mr. McKee is County Commander.

This was a week for everyone to dip his steaming dogs in a pool or lake. Five straight days over 90, the Man reported—as if it were still news. The weekend won't be a great deal better, by the time it's over, although this time it will be the humidity and not the heat. Showers Thursday or Friday, followed by something akin to a Turkish bath.

ARTS FESTIVAL PLANNED

To Benefit Miss Fine's. Princeton's 1959 Festival of the Arts, which benefits the scholarship fund of Miss Fine's School, will be held October 17-20. Mr. Augustus K. Mills 3d, 31 Hodge Road, is chairman.

Artists are asked to submit work for consideration in the fields of painting, sculpture, graphic arts, ceramics and handicrafts. Preliminary inquiries should be addressed to Mrs. Mills. Last year's festival, with more than 80 artists participating, grossed more than $15,000 in sales and commissions.

FWOILER FINED

For Noisy Muffler. William J. Fowler, 21, 31 Clay Street, was fined $25 in Borough Court Monday night for having a noisy muffler on his car.

Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. increased the fine because Fowler had failed to appear in court previously and a warrant had been issued for his arrest. Also fined was Oliver Kauffman, 22, 7 James Street, Lawrenceville, $25 for speeding.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

By Rotary Club. James T. Richmond was installed Tuesday as president of the Princeton Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting at the Nassau Inn.

The other officers, who will serve until July of next year, are: Dr. Thomas S. Harvey, first vice-president; Roy S. Vogt, second vice-president; George W. Loon, secretary; and John C. Yeoman, treasurer. Clement V. Conole, J. S. Hanks and Chester E. Stroup, outgoing president, were installed as directors.

MISS QUINN RETIRES

After 12 Years With ETS. Miss Eleanor Quinn, 10 Bayard Lane, retired Tuesday as an assistant in office services at Educational Testing Service. She has been a staff member since ETS was formed in 1947 and before that.

News Of The THEATRES

"PLAYBOY" SUCCESSFUL

Players' Susan Beggs Weill, J. M. Synge's "The Playboy of the Western World" ushered in Princeton's "Summer Festival" Saturday in Murray Theatre with the lit of Irish brogue and the roar of broad comedy. The University Players have again shown themselves extremely capable in this type of play, and the cast carries through the playwright's satire on Irish manners with vigor and aplomb.

Peter Falk takes first place in his portrayal of "Christy" Mahon who wanders into a village in County Mayo following the supposed murder of his father. With wide-eyed innocence and unknowing savoir-faire, he gives the countrymen a spark of unwanted heroism and derring-do. Like the classic image of the Irishman who speaks with words of silver and hides his character until the final moment of stress, Mr. Falk never betrays the intricacies of the plot until the ultimate scene. When the unpredictable denouement arrives, he shrugs off the improbable and goes on. And therein is the humor.

As his foil and spur is Pegeen Mike played by Mary Doyle. The hard-headed country girl falls prey to the charm behind his brave deed of patricide, and her biting words fall under the spell of his quiet charm. Miss Doyle plays her role with gusto and ease, but never quite convinces her audience that she truly loves this strange man who wins the village games and brags of his murder. In the final scenes, therefore, her changes of sympathy are readily foreseen. The subtler shadings of character are lacking.

Vying for the young man's affections is the Widow Quin, played by Georgine Hall. She is presented with the burden of the comedy in its obvious sense, and she handles it lightly and unaffectedly. A minor quibble might be that the part of a widow does not really suit her. The picture of a husband-less, man-hungry, middle-aged woman does not come into focus.

Supporting Roles Strong. John Wynne-Evans, as Pegeen's spinless fiancé, and Emery Battis, as Christy's twice-resurrected father, play their parts superbly. The Irish preoccupation with religion is beautifully satirized through Mr. Evans who presents a marvelous picture of comic cowardice. Like Mr. Falk, Mr. Battis keeps some surprises up his sleeve and carries out the turns and twists of his characterization in masterful fashion.

The pretty young girls, as played by Jinx Frasier, Diana Terry, Glennis Drury and Kit Barnard, sustain the Gaelic atmosphere without cloying. As Pegeen's father, James Harder does not seem entirely at home in his role, but he is ably sustained by two cronies, Robert Costa and Philip Minor, who bring out the macabre and superstitious aspects of the villagers.

Although Irish traits and temperament have largely become clichés over the course of the years, the Players' production is fresh and lively. Mr. Minor has done a good job of directing a competent cast. Some of the lines are lost through over-rapid delivery, but that can be chalked up to the perils of the brogue.

During the summer of 1959, the Princeton theatre-goer should be able to see a series of good plays, ably performed. And, thanks to Joshua Logan, he can sit in upholstered comfort in Murray Theatre. "Playboy" will run nightly through Saturday.

COMEDY SCHEDULED

"The Play's the Thing" To Open. The University Players' second production of the season, Ferenc Molnar's "The Play's the Thing," will open Tuesday and run through Saturday, July 11, at Murray Theatre.

Directed by Marie Siletti, the play will feature Joan Hackett, who will be making her initial appearance in Princeton. Miss Hackett will take part later in the month in Sir John Gielgud's production of "Much Ado About Nothing" at the Cambridge Shakespeare Festival.

"The Play's the Thing" is a light, adult comedy set on the —Continued on Page 6

Rivers. "In 22 years, nothing has tarnished the wit and implicitly inspired fun of Ferne Molnar's 'The Play's the Thing.'" Brooks Atkinson said about a recent New York production.

CONCERTS TO BEGIN

Pearl Primus Will Appear. The University Players' new series of Monday night concerts in McCosh 10 will begin Monday night with an appearance by Pearl Primus and her group of ethnic and modern dancers.

Described by Life Magazine as "the greatest female dancer of her race," Miss Primus, who first appeared in Princeton two years ago, is influenced by the folk-dances and native music of Africa, America and her native Trinidad. For information and tickets, call the University Players, WA 4-3339.

ELLINGTON TO PLAY

Will replace "Salesmen." Duke Ellington and his orchestra will perform at St. John Terrell's Lambertville Music Circus next week, Tuesday through Sunday. The internationally known jazz pianist and composer will replace the billing Louis Armstrong, who was scheduled to appear.

Ellington, a top musical name for three decades, composed and arranged scores of popular tunes, including "Sophisticated Lady," "Mood Indigo," "I'm Beginning to See the Light," "Don't Get Around Much Any More" and "Do Nothing 'Til You Hear From Me." Appearing on the same program will be the English orchestra of Johnny Dankworth.

Individual tickets or theatre party information may be obtained by writing the Music Circus at Lambertville or by calling EX 7-1350. The current production at the Music Circus is "The New Merry Widow," starring Gail Manners and Jack Washburn. The show will run nightly through Sunday.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Nun's Story (July 1-7) features Audrey Hepburn in a well-done adaptation by Robert Anderson of the best-selling novel by Kathryn C. Hulme. The picture is an extraordinary vehicle for the subtle talents of Miss Hepburn who acts the role of the young nun with delicacy and polish.

A Belgian girl, Miss Hepburn enters a convent at Bruges with a strong desire to become a nun and nurse in the Belgian Congo. Her central problem becomes apparent immediately: All her good intentions notwithstanding, Miss Hepburn does not have a nun's personality. Strong-willed and "prideful" when she should be self-effacing, she nevertheless completes her training successfully and goes to the Congo. There she is forced into deciding whether to remain a sister by the influence of an agnostic surgeon who respects her nursing ability but tells her she was not cut out to be a nun.

The filmic presentation of an internal conflict such as this is never easy to bring off successfully, but Miss Hepburn has managed it. Furthermore, she has done it honestly—through acting ability, and without such phony devices as tortured close-ups accompanied by pre-recorded "thoughts." The picture is further aided by Director Fred Zinnemann's detailed exploration of convent life, an unusual and fascinating chronicle. "The Nun's Story" is in Technicolor.

Say One For Me (July 8-11) is a forthright, handsomely-mounted little romantic comedy starring Bing Crosby, Debbie Reynolds and Robert Wagner, who are appealingly non-bland, satiric and cloying, respectively. Crosby is cast as a priest whose parish is the New York theatrical district, where Miss Reynolds and Wagner are working—she as an aggressively innocent young actress, he as a fast-talking, high-living comic.

It is Crosby's task to convince Wagner that he is not living light, that the path to true happiness terminates at Miss Reynolds' door, which is convenient—Continued on Page 8

THE OPEN ROAD

With Mr. Atkinson, "Here is a new dress, it is not previously fashioned, it is unique."

Walt Whitman's "Song of the Open Road" provides the promotion copy for Bill Atkinson's newest collection, at Mary Chapin's . . . simple outdoor clothes that you can wear now and as far into the fall as the weather allows.

In his usual fashion, Mr. A. has chosen one or two prints, one or two solids, light-weight; one or two solids, heavier weight, and has built his whole collection around them. Colors like sand, moss, current, bittersweet, copper indicate the all-outdoors feeling of this collection.

Most dramatic, possibly, is a sleeveless coat in copper canvas, with oatmeal-colored knit sleeves which you may button in if a thunderstorm comes up. The coat is collarless with two buttons the size of sand dollars up at the neckline.

It hangs straight and full and the sleeves are knit from a thick, soft yarn in plaid stitch. A wrap skirt with self belt and brass buckle matches this coat.

Light-weight fine wale, sand colored corduroy has been used in a short straight cardigan bound narrowly with very dark green-brown leather at front and sleeve end. A matching skirt is slim and plain, nothing pants are tight and eye-catching.

Shirts in this Atkinson collection are "current" (a bright raspyberry) or "corn silk" (natural) with long sleeves. Short sleeved shirts are current or bittersweet calico and there is a square-dan-ging skirt, full as a cider jug, to match the skirt.

Provincial print has been used for shirts made of sand, copper or moss green and the same Provincial print appears in a mandarin style dress with three-quarter sleeves and a zip front.

To get back to the shirts, there is another with ruffle all the way down the front to catch the breeze and the male eye. Its fabric is a dusty plaid which could be tagged Madras if it weren't for all the Whitman.

The same plaid squares off a full skirted dress with short sleeves and plain V neck. In the V you fold a scarf which is corn silk or current depending on the basic color of the plaid.

The final color is a deep moss, so dark it is almost brown. Comes in slim skirt shorts or a flaring jumper which can also be worn as a sun dress.

Silver Spoon. The top of a shirt bundle is probably the last place you would expect to find a silver spoon. But those of you who have picked up shirts at the University Cleaners this past week, have found a shiny silver spoon taped neatly to your brown bundle and if you take a bundle to the University Cleaners by this Friday, you, too, will receive a spoon.
 Once you have a spoon, what's to

Chapin's Playground

Mothers may be glassy-eyed over Bill Atkinson's new "Open Road" collection at Mary Chapin's, but companion shoppers under the age of 10 or so may be less impressed, and when a size three is bored, mother's shopping meditations are likely to be interrupted occasionally.

With mothers in mind, Mary Chapin has rigged up the front porch at 217 Nassau to serve as a play area. There is a gate to keep young feet where they ought to be and a splendid play table with chairs attached.

A ring-toss game scaled down to size, a broom to keep the porch clean, a horse on a stick—mother can shop all morning.

We're not sure precisely what incident moved Mary Chapin to set up this play area, but we know that a quiet lit-doesn't count once you've got that free silver spoon. University suggests that you assume a "v" position, or to use at a summer home or on a yacht or what have you. The savings on a 52-piece set amounts to $35.48, so you can hardly say that you've been taken to the cleaners.

"Cherish." Vacationists who are interested in photographing the beauties of the New Jersey shore will need a camera for the job and Mail Cameras, in the Princeton Shopping Center, is equipped to provide everything but the beauties.

Minolta has a single lens-reflex camera, the SR-2—which is just about the ultimate in single lens photography. It has a completely automatic lens diaphragm, f 1.8 lens, 1/1000 of a second shutter speed. Besides, its lens has a special double coating which eliminates the need for a haze filter. The viewer is an ultra-bright, eye-level Pentamirror viewfinder and through it you can clearly see the price tag, which is $249.50.

For people who like to be on the move, Mail has the Bolex Compumag 8 mm. movie camera with an "electric eye" exposure set up. This means that the electric eye is behind the lens so that it measures only the light that gets into the lens and not all the diffuse light floating around outside. Costs $89.50, minimum.

Thirty Leitz slide projectors and only 30, came to this country from Germany not long ago and one of them is now at Mail Camera. This is a compact projector which you can focus and change by remote control. Has a 2.5 lens and costs $169.50. Kodak's Cavendish slide projector is $39.50.

Mail welcomes the Brownie as well as the pro and not every camera in the shop costs $200. You may buy slide cameras from $23.95. The Fujio 35 mm is a good medium-priced camera; the Agfa, for which Mail is the exclusive agent in this area is $69.25 with built-in range finder, light meter, synchro-compass shutter (just about the best made, some photographers say), 2.8 lens and speeds to 1/250.

Cameras and kits with camera and flash attachments start as low as $3.78.

The shop also carries, for those who are too timid to tip a shutter and would rather just look, a splendid collection of binoculars, starting at $14.95.

ly located near the church. Every imaginable cliché of sentimentality and popular religion is worked in somewhere, but flashes of brightness in the dialogue, as well as Crosby's sterling performance in a familiar role, keep the picture from being another cloying show-biz epic.

Eight pleasant songs are provided by the talented writing team of Sonny Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen. Unfortunately, only Crosby among the principals is able to sing. This does not prevent the others from trying, and several of the musical numbers—notably the title tune, performed amusingly by the three stars—a little short of fiascos. In charity, it must be said that Miss Reynolds runs up for some of her vocal limitations by her customary sub-adolescent cuteness, which has rarely been shown more effectively. The film is in Cinema Scope and color.

THE GARDEN

The Mysterians (July 2-4) is a naively made, and, as usual, poorly-dubbed Japanese space film that should cause serious science fiction fans to write to their Congressmen. Less specialized filmgoers, however, may find a kind of fascination in the seemingly endless round of natural and man-made catastrophes, each one noisier and more garish than its predecessor. The director, one Toshio Honda, has missed no opportunity to exploit the possibilities of CinemaScope and Eastman color, although his solutions to various problems of taste did not strike the department as entirely adequate.

The scene is set with the information that a distant planet named Mysteroid exploded some time before the start of the picture, leaving in its stead a group of inhabited star fragments. Audiences prepared to accept this improbable bit of data will no doubt be diverted by the ensuing attempt of the Mysterians to Take Over The Earth. Those acquainted with earlier celluloid invasions of our beleaguered planet will find to their satisfaction that this one is supplied with the requisite earthquakes, landslides, fires and even a robot with death-ray eyes. For us, however, the eeriest aspect of the film was the spectacle of the bent Oriental scientists commenting on the end of Eastern civilization in tones reminiscent of NBC announcers.

To Catch a Thief (July 6-8) is a 1955 Alfred Hitchcock effort, in VistaVision and color, starring Cary Grant and Grace Kelly. The film fulfills the promise implied by the presence of this capable threesome, and Hitchcock's usual mood of suspense hangs like a chill fog over the whole thing. Grant is cast as a retired jewel thief, who is accused of a series of gem heists on the French Riviera. In his efforts to prove himself innocent, he hides out with a group of ex-underground workers and is introduced to a potential thief victim, his daughter, Miss Kelly, immediately suspects his true identity. Things look worse for Grant when Miss Kelly's family jewels are taken while he is in the vicinity.

Hitchcock has long been fond of using large social gatherings as settings for climactic scenes (the hair-raising orchestral concert in "The Man Who Sued Too Much") was one memorable example) and he introduces the gimmick here with predictably effective results. The final confrontation between Grant and the real burglars takes place at a mammoth costume ball. Even repeated exposures hardly dim the fascination of impending evil events among a group of unconcerned partners. Recommended.

AUTO DAMAGES BUILDING
Driver Summoned. A 35-year-old Trenton man, holder of a learner's permit, was charged with careless driving on Saturday when he failed to negotiate a turn and crashed into the L. C. Bowers & Sons Construction Co. building, 341 Nassau Street. Damage, including a large hole in the brick wall near the northeast entrance to the 18th century structure, amounted to $1,000.
Vincent Madonna of 306 Brunswick Avenue, Trenton, will appear in Borough Court Monday night to answer the charge. Police said Madonna completed a left turn from Harrison Street into Nassau Street, failed to straighten his wheels and cut back across the center line and into the building. The car's front end was slightly damaged in the crash. Joseph E. Pelican, vice-president of Bowers, had the area taped off after the accident to protect pedestrians from the possibility of falling bricks.

WORST FIRE? Edward S. Foley who has been fighting fires in Princeton since he joined the Princeton Engine Company No. 1 55 years ago, was the only one of nine firemen to name a blaze on Witherspoon Street as the worst he has seen here. Mr. Foley was cited at the parade and inspection last week as the oldest fireman in point of service.

Question of the Week

Question: What do you recall as the toughest fire that you fought as a member of the Princeton fire department.

Where asked: At the firemen's annual parade and inspection.

William Whitley, 120 Longview Drive, Princeton Engine Company No. 1: "The gymnasium was the worst one I ever fought, and the one up at Ten Acre, where we lost four people. I pulled one lady out, but she died two days later. The gym fire was during the war and we didn't have all our men. We had a lot of young boys, 15 and 16 years old due to the fact that the older men were in the service."

John McKinley, 17 Chestnut Street, No. 1: "The gymnasium. The air currents inside pushed it all at once and really whipped up the blaze."

George F. Cahill, 10 Pelham Street, former fire chief, No. 1: "The Ten Acre Foundation. In that fire we lost four lives. It was all confined in the upper areas of the building and we had to evacuate many people, many of them infirm."

Edward S. Foley, 70 Spruce Street, No. 1: "On Witherspoon Street. Some time ago. It was four or five buildings—residences—all burning together down by Hulse's St."

James Davidson, Herrington Road, Mercer Engine Company No. 3: "The Palmer Lab fire. We got more smoke and oil there than I've ever seen anywhere from the cyclotron being on fire."

Richard Wood, 35 Maple Street, No. 3: "The University Gym. It broke out very early in the morning, but it had been smouldering for a long time. Shortly after we started to pour water on it, it exploded and the roof came off. When we got there and broke some of the doors and opened the windows, enough air got to the fire to really get it going."

Robert F. Manney, 46 Cedar Lane, No. 3: "The toughest one I ever fought was up at Ten Acre Foundation. That was three years ago today and even hotter than it is today. Four or five people were killed in it. It had a tremendous head start on us, and there were a lot of people trapped, which always makes a fire tougher to fight."

Wilbur F. Kerr, Sr., 103 Jefferson Road, Hook and Ladder Company No. 1: "In May, 1921, when Marquand Chapel and Dickinson Hall

Hard Choice

Although Princeton has an excellent record in preventing loss from fire over the years, thanks to the ability of its three volunteer companies, members of the Fire Department could recall a number of serious, difficult blazes they have had to combat. Which was the worst?

TOWN TOPICS' inquiring reporter asked veteran fire-fighters this question at Friday's annual inspection of the 150 members and their equipment. The answers brought back memories of wailing sirens on various occasions dating back to the years immediately following World War I.

Was the worst fire the one that destroyed Marquand Chapel and Dickinson Hall? Or the John S. Green School of Science? Or did it occur in town—the night a dormitory in the Hun School burned, or when lives were lost at the Tenneco Foundation on the Great Road a few short summers ago? Opinion varies—see the adjoining column for how much.

burned together. They were both very large buildings, and fighting two fires of that magnitude is quite a job. We had to bring in equipment from Trenton."

A. M. Wert, 17 Edwards Place, Hook and Ladder: "I think Princeton University Press in 1930 was the worst. That's one of the worst of them. The basement was filled with stacks of paper and it was hard to get through them. We had to flood the basement and then after it was over, we had to pump out the water."

PEOPLE In the News

R. Manning Brown, 50 Westcott Road, will serve as chairman of the Princeton area for Princeton University's $53 million fund-raising drive. The campaign, for which $1,250,000 has already been received, is planned for the purpose of replacing or renovating outdated facilities on the campus and strengthening the faculty and research programs.

Mr. Brown graduated from Princeton in 1936, and is currently vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, and a trustee of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company and the Dry Dock Savings Bank.

Associated with Mr. Brown as members of the Executive Committee in the Princeton area will be James H. Ackerman, Hodge Road; Lewis B. Cuyler, Edgemoor Street; Amos Eno, Quaker Road; Z. Pardee Foulke, Cleveland Lane; Leslie L. Laughlin, Drake's Corner Road; Albridge C. Smith III, Hodge Road; and Walker W. Stevenson, Jr., Library Place.

Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, honorary vice-president of the Radio Corporation of America, has been elected to honorary membership in the British Institution of Radio Engineers. The honor, which has been awarded only 11 times in the 35-year history of the institution, will be conferred upon Dr. Zworykin this week at Cambridge University, England, where he will deliver the 1939 Clerk Maxwell Memorial Lecture at a meeting of the B.I.R.E.

Richard T. Frost, Wheatstee Lane, has been appointed by Governor Robert D. Wagner to the Committee on Zoning and Planning of the New Jersey Municipal Law Revision Commission. The commission examines state laws bearing on the rights and restrictions of municipalities in their various activities. Mr. Frost has contributed several articles on zoning and planning to professional journals concerned with municipal management, and is the author of a forthcoming book covering present and future zoning questions.

MAILBOX

Thanks from the Davidsons.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

On behalf of my husband and myself, I should like to publicly thank our many wonderful friends and neighbors for all of their assistance and kindness in our time of need and distress. It would be impossible to individually thank each and everyone who joined the search for Mr. Davidson's 88 year old father who was missing for almost 48 hours.

Our thanks especially to Chief James Campbell and the entire Princeton Township Police Force; the three fire companies who so quickly answered the call for help; the Rescue Squad; the Borough Police; the Princeton Riding Club for the use of the horses; the ones responsible for the airplanes and helicopter; and all of our neighbors on Herrontown Road. To each and every one, we owe so much for coming to our aid without hesitation or question. Words cannot express our deep gratitude and gratefulness to all of these wonderful people, so when we simply say, "Thank you," it is from our hearts and meant most sincerely to each and everyone of our fellow Princetonians.

Report from THE MAYOR

Princeton Summer. So many friends find it hard to believe that the Mayor's favorite vacation spot is Princeton itself. If people become insistent on knowing where he's spending some free time, the answer is often "Nassau" meaning Nassau, Surinam, of course; but somehow they'll accept the shorter version as a symbol of some exotic "escape" from the regular routine.

But Princeton more and more provides the summer resident with a diversified list of activities and interests for any family to enjoy. Day in and day out, there are the well-planned summer playground programs; hiking and day-camping; swimming or just plain splashing in the wading pools; special events and instruction in the Police Youth Program; and a long list of other special ways to spend a fun-filled day. The kids have plenty to do.

1958 Summer Festival. A word of special commendation is due to all those who have made possible the plays and concerts sponsored by the University Players. On Saturday night, the exciting performance of "The Playboy of the Western World" was an auspicious beginning for what promises to be a tremendous incentive for spending many an enjoyable summer evening in Princeton. The opening night audience should prove to be effective boosters for the season.

Community Band. Young Bruce McKinney has again helped to enrich the Princeton summer by presenting the fine Princeton Community Band. Those who missed their first concert of the season can look forward to hearing them on Saturday when the American Legion presents its annual Fourth of July Fireworks at Palmer Stadium.

Annual Inspection. The annual Firemen's Parade and Inspection on Friday night attracted a large turnout. This special event gives the community a formal chance to express its gratitude to the volunteers of the three companies. A highlight of this year's program was the recognition of 55 years of outstanding service of Edward Foley to Engine Company No. 1.

Cool, Man, Cool. Despite the recent heat wave, the teenagers of Princeton found it cool — both weather-wise and musically — at the rock-on dance last Friday. Adults who want to get to know teenagers and their latest favorites in dance music should offer to help chaperone future canteens. It's easy and fun; but here's one tip to the teens: who not offer a short course to us oldtimers of the Glenn Miller generation so we'll know how to handle that new beat? Or are we gone?

Planning. Wednesday night's special meeting of the Planning Board turned out to be something rather significant for Princeton's future.

The evening was entirely devoted to a thought-provoking exchange of facts and views between Board members and the Borough's planning consultant, Francis McHugh and his assistant, David Pellish. Because regular meetings of the Planning Board usually are crowded with official business of a more immediate nature, it is hoped that these special sessions can be held on a periodic basis to take searching looks at what lies ahead for our town.

Thursday Open House. The regular weekly "Tell it to the Mayor" session will again be held on Thursday, July 2, from 7 to 10 p.m. and Friday, July 10, at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these very informal meetings. These sessions are a first priority each week on the Mayor's calendar. Also on last week's schedule: the opportunity to welcome a hundred members of The Mental Health Association Staff Council. These men and women represented citizen mental health groups in 29 states. They spent a week in Princeton with important work sessions on mental illness and the mental hospital.

On Saturday, Princeton was host to the executive committee of the Municipal Clerks' Association of New Jersey and their wives. Borough Clerk Bob Moonhey is a member of the group and arranged a tour of Princeton for the ladies while their husbands held a working session in preparation for their annual convention in November.

The Municipal Clerks are very much interested in training opportunities for expanding their knowledge of administration. The Mayor has accepted an invitation to work with them as part of a training institute on personnel at Rutgers University on November 7. Last Saturday's session was also attended by Mrs. Moonhey and by Miss Elizabeth MacMillan, Assistant Borough Clerk in Princeton.

TEACHERS COMMENDED
Four Retiring from Schools.
The Borough Board of Education passed a resolution honoring four teachers who have retired this summer from their duties. The resolution stated that "the value of their contribution to the community cannot be estimated." The four teachers cited in the resolution are Mrs. Kathryn C. Baum, after 28 years of teaching 7th and 8th grade English; Miss Dorothy C. Compton, after 31 years teaching elementary science; Miss Helen I. Darrahn, 12 years of service in 6th grade English; and Orville T. Spessard, with 29 years of service teaching social studies.

"It is always a matter of regret when faithful teachers, who have exemplified a devotion to duty with conspicuous success, reach the statutory age of retirement," the resolution said, "even though their retirement is well earned and the teachers retire in an atmosphere of good will."

The teachers were commended

BATHERS BEWARE: Before taking a dip in a lake that appears inviting, bathers should be on the alert for these signs to be posted all over the state to denote those lakes that meet the safety standards of the state Department of Health. Designed to protect bathers from unsanitary conditions, the signs are 22 inches high and 16 inches wide.

Health Department to Indicate Safe Areas. The New Jersey State Department of Health will identify by signs those lake bathing places which comply with standards of the department. Until this year, there was no readily apparent evidence to help the general public differentiate between areas which meet such standards and those which do not.

Requirements for compliance in the standard are that water shall be of a good quality and that the general sanitation of the area be good. There must also be adherence to safety conditions. Proprietors of lake bathing places will be responsible for periodic sampling and subsequent bacteriological analysis of the bathing waters. Sanitation and safety will be evaluated by health authorities.

EXPANSION PLANS SET
Bids Received by Nassau Inn. Ground-breaking for the $250,000 first phase of the Nassau Inn's expansion program is scheduled for September 1, Fred M. Blaicher, president of Princeton Municipal Improvement, Inc., announced this week. All bids have been examined and the builder will be selected by the first week in August.

Remodeling and new construction will be carried on in such a manner as not to disrupt any hotel service. Mr. Blaicher said, George P. Washko, manager of the Nassau Inn, said that most of the work done in phase one will be on "behind the scenes facilities demanded by both the present increase in business and the anticipated needs for the future."

A new restaurant, the "Coach Room," will be the highlight of the program. Facing Palmer Square West, the dining room will be decorated in a fashion "reminiscent of the days when Nassau Inn was the halfway station on the stage coach run between New York and Philadelphia," Mr. Washko said.

"The atmosphere of the Coach Room will be one of casual informality," according to Mr. Washko, and the specialty will be "charcoal broiled foods ranging from hamburgers to 'lickery' grilled sirloins for four." There will also be a wide selection of sea foods, sandwiches, and snacks. The formal opening of the dining room will be March 1.

Other improvements scheduled for the first phase of construction include doubling the size of the present kitchen, the construction of a new gift shop and preliminary interior renovations in preparation of future expansion. A scale model of the new Nassau Inn will be placed on display in the lobby—see picture, page 3.

MRS. STOUT PROMOTED
By Princeton Bank and Trust. Mrs. Lillian V. S. Stout has been elected Assistant Vice-President of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company and placed in charge of the bank's township branch as manager.

Mrs. Stout, who joined the staff of the bank in 1920, will manage a branch with assets of several million dollars, larger than the assets of the company when she joined. George R. Cook 3d, president.

ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT:
Mrs. Lillian V. S. Stout has been elected vice president of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company and manager of the township branch.

dent of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, said that in making the promotion, the Board of Directors recognized that he r many years of faithful service have won her the devotion and respect of the community."

In private life, Mrs. Stout is Mrs. Samuel R. Lake. In addition to her banking interests, which include membership in the National Association of Bank Women, she is a member of the Present Day Club, the English Speaking Union, and is active in Princeton civic, charitable and social affairs. Her home is in Monmouth Junction.

RESEARCH FARM PLANNED

540-Acre Agriculture Center. Plans for the American Cyanamid Company's Agriculture Center on Quaker Bridge Road near Princeton are nearing completion and construction of the new buildings is expected to begin in the near future.

A research building, clinical development laboratories, and employees' cafeteria, and additional farm buildings, roads and utilities will be built in the first phase of the operation, with an administration building under consideration for the future. About 350 persons will be employed in this first phase, including research scientists, farm hands, and secretaries, medical and cafeteria personnel.

C. D. Siverd, assistant general manager of the Agricultural Division of American Cyanamid, said that the farm will not be a show place, designed to produce prize animals or plants. "Rather," Mr. Siverd emphasized, "the center was designed to simulate conditions as they might be found on a well-run farm, a practical farm. The basic purpose is to solve problems associated with plants and animals and to increase the growth of both. These are the economic problems which the farmer wants solved."

About 100 acres of the farm are in woods, with another 500 in field crops such as wheat, forage and hay. While some of the wheat will be grown as a cash crop, the rest, plus the grasses, will serve as a testing area for weed killers, insecticides, fertilizer and plant nutrients. Five and a half acres are being used for animal test areas.

A new barn and grazing areas will be built for cattle, while a poultry building will be constructed to house 5000 birds. Special laboratories and rooms will produce specific climatic conditions for both animal and plant research.

METAL SHRINKS "BRAIN"
Devise Can Speed Computers. A tiny piece of metal developed at the Radio Corporation of America Laboratories here can shrink a barn-sized electronic computer to the size of an office desk and speed the machine up 1000 times.

Dr. Louis Pensak, who is in charge of developing such small parts at R.C.A., explained that the tiny drop of metal is gasified and then frozen in crystal form on a layer of glass. If the pattern of microscopic crystals can be controlled, they will be able to route electrons the way scientists now route them with vacuum tubes and transistors.

DINER BEATS TOPICS

In Girls' Softball, League-leading Clarksville Diner scored eight runs in the fourth inning to make up a 6-0 deficit and trounce Town Topics, 15-7, in girls' softball at Poe Field last Wednesday. The victory extended the undefeated Diner's streak to six.

Clarksville was sparked by the pitching of Kay Haston, who entered the game with one out in the fourth and gave up only three hits during the rest of the game. Joan Carrier and Lois Cooper each went three-for-four at the plate for Clarksville.

In other league action, Thorne's defeated ETS, 4-2, at Bedford Field. Pitcher Bee Baker, who went the route for Thorne's in her first appearance after a five-week bout with an injured knee, allowed no walks and four hits while fanning one.

In a makeup game Monday, Town Topics edged ETS, 3 to 2, behind the all-around play of Ginny Mershan. As the winning pitcher, she threw a five-hitter and fanned seven; at bat, she collected two for three. Sheila Petrone of the victors drove in two runs with a two-for-four performance at the plate.

The league standings:

TWO GAMES SCHEDULED

For Post 76, Princeton Post 76, in last place in the American Legion Junior League with a 1-7 slate, will face Hamilton Post 31 on Saturday and Lambertville Post 120 next Wednesday. Both games are away.

Bruce Sandvik's solid relief hurling in the ninth inning, combined with a four-run barrage in the seventh, gave Post 76 its first victory of the year, 6-4, over Ewing on Saturday. The win was credited to Dick Olsen, whose record is now 1-2. Olsen being record to four hits in eight innings before he was replaced by Miles Truesdale and Sandvik, who required the side to assure the victory.

Princeton led in the third and the fifth, by one-run margins —Continued on Page 20—

NEW HONOR: Johnny Heyd, who was an all-Ivy halfback and won the Raper Trophy, Princeton's top award to an athlete, has been named to the All-American Lacrosse Team.

DRAYTON NABERS Freshman Tennis Player

Ahility at the freshman level is always easy to spot, but indications are that Princeton is about to watch the development of its best tennis player in a decade. Ready to move into varsity action for the next three years, he is 18-year old Drayton Nabers of Birmingham, Ala.

Dick Swinerton, freshman coach whose jersey has compiled an unparalleled record of 103 victories against a mere 44 defeats in the post-war years, lobs Nabers as "probably the top player Princeton has had since 1952." It was in that far-off spring when Eisenhower was not yet in the White House and the Korean conflict was still raging that the team headed by Chuck DeVoe and Gil Bagley won the Eastern Tennis Association for the third straight year and ran its unbeaten string to 31 straight matches.

This past spring, Nabers paced the Cliffs of 62 to a perfect 7-0 season, but won eight singles matches in the process. He went through the spring unbeaten the hard way, defeating a good Lawrenceville opponent twice. After he had won his own match once, rain halted proceedings and he was required to repeat the process a week later.

The key match that the young southerner won was against Yale freshmen, a tough battle that made the difference between victory and defeat that day at New Haven. The Class of '62 won, 5-4, thereby running the current string of freshman victories to 16 over three seasons.

Nabers is a Lawrenceville alumnus who earned three captaincies in two sports during his final two years there. He was twice named to lead the tennis team and also captained the basketball team as a senior. At Princeton, he has won numerals in both sports.

There's a good chance that this youngster, who played the number one position last spring and was elected captain of the freshmen, will move into the number one spot on the varsity in his first year. It will take more than one player of his promise to put Princeton back into contention for the title Yale has recently been monopolizing but Drayton Nabers' presence here for the next three seasons is a big step in the right direction.

each time, but then fell behind by one marker in the sixth. Post 76 snapped back, however, in the next frame when an infield single by Jim Keynon, a line drive to centerfield by Archie Freeman and Ray Cranston's double dead-batted the score at 3-2.

Sandvik, then playing shortstop, was intentionally passed to lead the bases. Olsen tapped a slow roller to short and two runs crossed the plate as Olsen was safe at second on a close play. The final tally came on True-dale's single to left.

SUMMER HOURS ANNOUNCED

By Lawrenceville Library. The Lawrenceville Community Library will be open from 10 a.m. to 12 noon on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, with a story hour for children at 10:30 during each session. Girl Scouts from troop 182 of Lawrenceville Township will tell the stories.

Many new children's books have been purchased, and many adult best-sellers donated to the library. Located in the Lawrenceville Elementary School, the library is open free of charge to all residents of Lawrence Township.

SAIK CHECK TRIGED

For Key Scouts. All scoutmasters and Explorer advisers of the George Washington Boy Scout Council have been urged by Dr. Oscar Sussman of Princeton, council health and safety committee chairman, to make sure their troops have had Salk polio shots as a preparation for a summer camp.

Dr. Sussman's personal request followed up a letter sent out in May by his committee urging the check. Leaders are asked to report the number of boys in their troops who have not had the shots, and to send literature on the value of the inoculations to parents of boys who have not had them.

News Of The CHURCHES

INSTITUTE TO OPEN

Ministers to Meet at Seminary. The 18th annual Princeton Institute of Theology will open its two-week refresher course for ministers on Monday. More than 600 attended the session last year, and as many are expected this summer.

An outstanding group of ministers will conduct elective courses in the mornings, and deliver addresses in the evenings. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, minister of Christ Church, Methodist, in New York City, will deliver the institute Monday evening in Miller Chapel at 7:30 p.m.

Those attending the sessions will be able to choose two from among six elective courses given each evening. The daily classes will be prefaced by a Bible hour at 8 a.m. each morning. The Rev. Walter L. Moore, of the First Baptist Church in Meridian, Mississippi, will discuss "Ephesians in the Bible." The first week, with Rev. D. O. Calvin Thomas, minister of the Pembroke Dock Church, Wales, conducting the second week's Bible hour on "The Church: Treasure in Earthen Vessels."

The elective courses offered include "Alternatives in Theology," "Pastoral Counseling," "Reconciliation in Christ and in His Church," "Role Conflicts in the Ministry," "Christianity and Human Relationships," "The Ministry as Interpreter," and clinics in sermon delivery.

The faculty of the Institute includes the Rev. W. J. Beeners, the Rev. Norman V. Hope and the Rev. Samuel W. Blizard, all of Princeton Seminary; the Rev. Kenneth J. Foreman, Louisville Presbyterian Seminary; the Rev. A. Leonard Griffith, Chalmers United Church, Ottawa, Canada and the Rev. Raymond I. Lindquist, Hollywood, Calif. Also, the Rev. William B. J. Martin and the Rev. Thomas F. Torrance, both of Edinburgh, Scotland; the Rev. William B. Oglesby, Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia, and the Rev. William L. Turner, of Atlanta, Georgia.

A daily convocation will be held following the courses. For the first week the Reverend Griffith will speak on "The Roman Letter Today," with the Reverend Lindquist discussing "The Presence as Pulpit Pastor" during the second week. A special convocation address by the Rev. Robert J. McCracken, minister of Riverside Church in New York City is at 7:30 p.m.

ALCOHOL, SMUT SCORED

At Adventist Conference. Church young people were called on to lead the fight against pornography and alcoholism at the 56th annual New Jersey Conference of Seventh-day Adventists this week at Kingston. The conference runs through Sunday, under the direction of Melvin K. Eckenroth, president of the New Jersey Conference of Adventists. James V. Scully, of Washington, D. C., director of youth activities for the American Temperance Society, called for "sound educational measures" to give young people information on the dangers inherent in the use of alcohol and drugs.

Edmund M. Peterson of Takoma Park, Maryland, director of youth activities of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventists announced plans for a "every-church-member" campaign against the distribution and sale of pornographic literature. "We are asking that our own young people urge their friends to refuse to pick up and read this bad literature whenever they see it, and that they courteously ask the owners that stock smut to stop handling such material," he said.

TO ATTEND MEETING

Rev. Sims will leave Sunday. The Rev. V. J. Sims, pastor of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church will depart Sunday evening for Detroit where he will participate in the Quadrennial Missionary Society Meeting and the Church of Brotherhood. He has cancelled the regular evening service.

South Brunswick was the victor, as Charlie Perpetua, Bill Chauncey and Pete Cook all pitched for Princeton in a losing cause.

Training in Professional salesmanship . . . Pre-selling by advertising . . . Leads furnished . . . $15,000 possible yearly income . . . Unusually high commissions—paid daily . . .
